Magnetic Resonance Imaging

Dear Client,

We are delighted to inform you that the first Magnetic Resonance Imaging scanner for pets in the Valencia Region, and only the third in Spain, is now at our Mutxamel Hospital.

Continuing with our policy of innovation in our installations, and in order to achieve the best possible medical and surgical diagnoses, we have recently acquired this diagnostic technique. This, coupled with our recent training courses in Montecatini (Italy) and the United States (Minneapolis-Minnesota and Ithaca-New York), will allow us to improve to an even greater extent our ability to diagnose many diseases that are difficult to detect with conventional devices and which are, therefore, difficult to treat and cure.

It is an entirely harmless diagnostic technique (no radiation is emitted and neither the patients nor the environment suffer any harmful effects), completely secure and reliable (hundreds of medical images with different views of the area to be analysed are obtained), extremely versatile (can be used on all organic systems and organs) and is truly polyclinic (MRI scans can be performed on all species of animals: dogs, cats, birds, reptiles, rodents, ferrets, primates and other small mammals).

Most MRI scans are performed on patients with problems of the nervous system (spine, epileptic patients, altered behaviour), geriatric reviews (older patients), endocrine system (diabetes, etc.), lameness (knees, hips, elbow joints, shoulders, etc.), emergencies (trauma, etc.), eye and sight problems, chronic hearing, abdomen or chest problems, etc.

Many patients are already being sent to us for MRI scans from several different Spanish provinces and we have a waiting list; however, as a client of JG, you will be given preferential service.

Yours faithfully,

JG Group
Caring for your pets since 1989
